

Two letters from campers about the 2006 camp:

I am very grateful that I was allowed to come to your FNAWS camp. I really enjoyed attending this year's camp, as well as the past two FNAWS camps. I like that you learn something new and that you meet new people. It is always nice to see familiar faces at the camp and talk about the changes. It has been nice to be able to come for the past three summers because I can see that when you ask at the end of the camp for suggestions, you mean it. As I have been able to see first hand the people directing this camp taking into consideration the different suggestions and concerns of those attending....I hope that the camp continues to run in the future year years as it is very educational and fun, which is why I keep coming back. Hopefully I will be able to come next year, as I believe that is my last year for the cut off age. Thank you so much for the opportunity you have offered to so many young hunters everywhere. You said to give our suggestions for constructive reasons, but I am sorry to say that I don't have any thoughts on ways to make it a better camp, as there as never been a reason any time I have been there to chant the way it is run, It is a wonderful camp, very educational and many activities.

Thank you,

I wanted to say that I liked this year's FNAWS camp because you always kept us going from the great breakfasts the cook made us to lights out in the cabins. I really liked the GPS search hunt because I enjoyed running and using it on the campground. I also really liked the [horse] packing because this year I could remember it fully. Last year I would mess up the diamond. I have no suggestions for changes because I liked the camp very much.

Thank you again for letting me come to the camp.
